

Are You Ready to Rock this Christmas?

I just wanted to see if you were ready for Christmas yet?

The elves and I have been working really hard for a while now but every once in a while we like to take a break and jam on our guitars. We play a lot of Christmas songs and everyone sings along. Some of the elves are pretty good. Even Mrs. Claus likes it and will sometimes play the tambourine with us.

I just checked and it looks like you're still on the Nice list. Good work!

It's not really hard to be nice to people, to work and study hard at school and to help out around your home every once in a while. If you do, you'll always be on my Nice list!

I've got to get back to the workshop now and finish up on those last minute toys. I also have to get the elves back to work or else they'll be jamming on their guitars all day.

Have a Merry Christmas.

Santa
