

CONGRATULATIONS

You're on the Nice List!

The elves and I have been very busy making all sorts of toys and games for all the good boys and girls this Christmas and I was just checking my naughty or nice list and I found your name was on the nice list. Way to go!

It's not really all that hard to be on my nice list. If you're nice to your family and friends, work hard at school and don't get into much trouble, you're in!

I hope you're ready for Christmas this year. It's going to be another magical night when I travel around the world in my sleigh with my reindeer. They've been practicing really hard and Rudolph's nose is ready to go in case we hit a snow storm.

I have to go now and check on the elves in the workshop. They're working very hard but if I don't watch them, they'll start playing with all the toys!

Have a Merry Christmas.
